

LAURELWOOD ARBORETUM

Fund for the Future

Preserving nature. Securing tomorrow.

Laurelwood Arboretum is more than a beautiful landscape—it is a place of inspiration, education and connection with nature. From its renowned rhododendron collection to its peaceful woodland paths, the arboretum offers a sanctuary for our community.

To preserve this special place for generations to come, we must look beyond today and plan for tomorrow.

An Investment in Nature and Community

The Fund for the Future was established to ensure the long-term care and sustainability of Laurelwood Arboretum.

A gift to the Fund for the Future is a powerful way to make a lasting impact. It provides:

- Stability during uncertain times
- Sustainable funding beyond annual donations
- A legacy that reflects your values

Leave a Legacy of Growth

Your gift ensures that Laurelwood will continue to thrive—today, tomorrow and forever.

Whether large or small, every contribution helps secure the arboretum's future.

Ways to Give

There are many simple and flexible options for contributing to the Fund for the Future.

Laurelwood Arboretum is a 30-acre, botanically diverse property nestled in Wayne Township in northern New Jersey. Woodland trails and gardens invite visitors to explore gentle streams, native wildlife and hundreds of varieties of rhododendrons, azaleas and other distinctive trees and native plants. Gravel paths wind gracefully throughout the arboretum, creating an ideal retreat for nature lovers, hikers, runners, artists, birdwatchers and photographers seeking beauty and quiet inspiration.

Once a thriving commercial nursery, Laurelwood Arboretum is now preserved as a public park through a partnership between Wayne Township and the non-profit organization Friends of Laurelwood Arboretum, Inc.

Donations, memberships, volunteer involvement and public support ensure that this remarkable landscape will continue to flourish as a sanctuary — a place where generations of visitors will come to be inspired, restored and renewed.
